Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Buckner (USPN 5735544).

Regarding claim 6, Buckner discloses a device 10 using a handheld implement having a grip portion, the device comprising a handle shaped like the grip portion of the implement, the handle having first and second ends, and a weight 12 on the second end of the handle, the center of mass of the device being stationary and less than about 13 inches from the first end of the handle, and wherein the device weighs more than the hand held implement normally used for writing.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huffman (USPN 5215307).

Art Unit: 3711

Regarding claim 6, Huffman discloses a sport specific training and conditioning device for a sport using a handle implement having a grip portion wherein the device comprises a handle shaped like a grip portion of the implement wherein the handle has a first and second end and a weight on the second end of the handle. Huffman discloses the device being 15 to 30 inches in length (See Summary of the Invention). If the device has a of length 15 inches, the device would inherently have a stationary center of mass less than about 13 inches from the first end of the handle. Therefore, one having ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to have the device on any length so long as the device strengthens the user's muscles. It is also note that Huffman discussed that weight training exercise usually involve weighted implements such as weighted golf clubs in order to train the muscles of the user (See Background of the Invention). Based on the above, Huffman inherently discloses that the device weighs more than the actual implement used in the sport.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 6 has been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

With respect to Buckner, applicant argues that Buckner does not teach a sport specific training and conditioning device. The examiner disagrees. Claim 6 is nothing more than a claim of intended use. "Sport" is defined as a physical activity engaged in for pleasure. Writing is a physical activity that can be engaging in for pleasure. Element 12 makes the writing implement heavier. For these reasons, the above reason has been furnished.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
